THIRTY-SEVENTH YEAR

LAST GUNS ARE FIRED IN CONTEST

Democratic Wave Seen in Closing of Campaign

BALLOT BATTLE TOMORROW

Chairmen Put Finishing Touches on Work

(By J. W. FISHER)

It is all over now but the actual counting and counting of the ballots for the state, district and county positions being trotted by numerous men and measures to be submitted finally to the electorate on the morning.

If predictions amount to anything at all, the result is known in a general way before the votes are cast. The straw ballot, taken by various Ohio newspapers during past weeks, is indicative of the same general results pointing unerringly to Democratic success, as it did toward the election of the Republican ticket two years ago.

However, party managers are taking nothing for granted and are continuing their fighting until the last minute. On the defensive all the way, the Republican lines have been heavily attacked. Whether they will be able to withstand the onslaught coming for the voting on Tuesday is to be determined.

Optimism pervaded Democratic state and county headquarters over Sunday and Monday, while at the state and county seat of Republican activities there exists hope that things may not be so bad as they appear on the surface. Chairman Gilling says he expects the election of the Republican county ticket, that Gable will carry the county by 1,000 and Thompson and Fess by 500. He makes no prediction concerning Gable in the remainder of the district or for the general outcome on the state ticket.

Democratic County Chairman, Tom Miller had no occasion Monday, he said, to alter his estimate of the result in the state or county. He confidently expects the election of the entire Democratic ticket—state, district and county. He places the chances of Donahay and Pomeroy at 3,000 in the county, 2,000 for Goeke and good leads for the candidates on the county ticket.

The board of elections has everything in readiness for the culmination of the contest on Tuesday. Judges and clerks of election have received their final instructions and everything is in readiness for the big task of receiving and tabulating the vote. Seven tickets are required to carry the names of the candidates and the amendments, bond issues and other propositions to be presented. In addition to the general ticket, with state, district and county candidates, there will be the separate tickets for the amendments, the taxation amendments, daylight saving, school bonds, city tax levy and fair grounds bonds proposition.

The polls will be open from 5:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. and employers and labor are expected to obey the law in providing necessary time for their employees to go to the polls and vote.

Chief Deputy J. M. Madigan of the board of elections stated Monday he anticipated no trouble about getting a full count of the vote, so that in a general way the results may be quickly known. Special effort along that line has been made, he said.

Only four were registered Saturday by the board, who were absent from the city on regular registration days. Further opportunity was provided along the same line on Sunday afternoon. Every effort is being made, Madigan said, to take care of the work in a rapid and thorough manner.

Madigan's estimate of the vote that will be cast Tuesday in Allen county is 25,000, in round numbers, of which 17,000 are expected in Lima. The registrations in the city total about 10,000. The total vote in Allen county in 1920 was 26,675.

The large vote forecasted for this year is due, Madigan says, to the unusual interest that has been developed by the keenness of the campaign, the importance and further the reason of the fact that amendments of a vital character, bond issues and proposed increased tax levy are to be passed upon.

"The finishing touches" were put on the local political campaign Monday by Lehr Miller, Democratic county chairman and his aides and H. E. Garling, in charge of the Allen county Republican campaign. Both came here "set" for whatever may be the result in the election tomorrow.

Democratic County Chairman Miller stated Monday that he had no reason to change his estimate of the results on Tuesday, given on Saturday night in forecast. "As a matter of fact," Miller said, "after I was afforded a thorough analysis of the new law in the state, I am more convinced than ever that our ticket will win. There is also increasing assurance of the election of J. H. Goeke to congress, that the entire Democratic county ticket will be chosen."

Democratic state Chairman W. W. Durbin has issued a request that a "so-called Republican" scheme to reach votes of the unwary be exposed. Durbin charges that cards were sent out with lists of candidates endorsed by "Cincinnati Chapter No. 1 of the Association Against Prohibition," are taken and Durbin states that when an investigation was made it was found that

VOTE FOR 2 MILL LEVY AND BOND ISSUE

EVERY man and woman in Lima is a partner in a great corporation which conducts two important businesses—the operation of a progressive city and the education of youth of the community.

Like all businesses, the stock is not equally divided, the stock in this case being the property owned. But unlike commercial enterprises, the dividends are apportioned equally. The man whose share consists only of his little home gets as much enjoyment and satisfaction out of the returns as does the man whose stock is measured by a store or factory. And the opportunities of children of both are equal from the standpoint of education.

The business in which you are a stockholder is facing one of the worst crises in its history. Your city looks forward to the time when it must operate on a budget the coming year which means stagnation, reduction of protection and darkness, and your schools are crowded to the doors and school officials see disadvantage for children who will begin their education in the future. New buildings must be provided.

If you have the interest of your business—your community —at heart, you cannot conscientiously vote against the proposals of a two mill levy for two years to keep your city moving ahead and the bond issue for new school buildings. You will go to the polls in force tomorrow and put these measures across in the typical Lima way.

Practically every big taxpayer of the city is behind the proposals to the limit. It is these men who will bear the brunt of the added expense. They are willing to spend their money for their community. Will you join hands with them that our city and schools may continue to pay dividends?

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER HURT WHEN OIL STOVE EXPLODES IN BEDROOM

Awakened From Sleep by Crash During Night

FIRE DEPARTMENT CALLED

Mrs. Lois Allison, Elizabeth, Age 4, in Hospital

A mother and daughter lie in City hospital Monday, suffering severely from burns following the explosion of a coal oil stove in their bedroom at 10 o'clock Sunday night.

Mrs. Lois Allison, 211 S. Woodlawn-av. the mother, was painfully burned on the left arm and over her left side.

Elizabeth, four year old daughter, suffered burns of less serious nature.

The accident occurred shortly after the two had retired for the evening. Mrs. Allison was awakened by the noise of the explosion.

She jumped out of bed to find the room enveloped in flames eating at the walls and bedclothing which had been saturated by unconsumed coal oil in the stove.

TO SAVE CHILD.

In an attempt to save her child from serious injury she grasped the flaming stove in her arms and flung it out a back door.

Police, the fire department and an ambulance had been called by neighbors who had heard the explosion and had seen the flames.

The firefighters removed the woman and her child from the danger zone and then turned their attention to fighting the flames. It was but a moment before they had the fire under control. Damage, Assistant Chief Eyster, who was in charge of the men battling the blaze, said, would not exceed $50. Charred woodwork and plaster knocked from the walls by the impact of the explosion caused the loss.

Mrs. Allison and her daughter were removed in the ambulance to City hospital where their burns were treated. It was reported from the hospital Monday, that they were resting as well as could be expected.

SCHOOLS OPEN WHEN COAL IS TAKEN IN RAID

SCRANTON, Pa. — Ten school buildings, in the Borough of Oilphant closed for two weeks because of coal shortage, altho in the heart of the anthracite region, were able to open their doors today for a throng of citizens led by Burgess P. B. Dempsey marched on the Delaware and Hudson railroad and confiscated 120 tons of coal from its cars.

The raid followed refusal of coal companies to sell their product in the borough. There is talk of other raids to confiscate fuel for use in stores, business places and private homes if the coal companies continue to refuse to sell.

The raiders declared that a carbon record has been kept of the coal taken and that every pound would be paid for when a bill was presented.

MATE NEGLIGENT, WIFE ENDS LIFE

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio. — (Associated Press) — Mrs. Gertrude Belcher, 17, killed herself at her home at Franklin Furnace today by sitting on a bed, placing a shotgun against her body and by the aid of a stick pulled the trigger, the contents of the gun entering her heart.

Despondency over the fact that her husband did not stay home enough is attributed as the motive for her act.

EX-KAISER WEDS AMID POMP

Wilhelm and Bride Spending Honeymoon in Castle

(By FERDINAND JAHN)

DOORN, Holland. — (United Press) — Ex-Kaiser Wilhelm and his bride, formerly the Princess Hermine, were united in marriage by civil and religious ceremonies at Doorn House yesterday noon, and today were on their honeymoon—within the castle walls.

The pomp and splendor with which Wilhelm surrounded himself upon the occasion of his second wedding could not suffice to stretch a whit the narrow confines, within which he and the new mistress of the House of Hohenzollern must spend the first few days of their married life.

WIRE ENTANGLEMENTS

Walls, surmounted by barbed wire entanglements, kept in the honeymooners, just as certainly as they kept out the journalists and camera men during the ceremony yesterday. A space about a mile and a half in circumference in which Wilhelm and Hermine have to roam.

A drizzling rain failed to dampen a bridal couple's ardor. Wilhelm made his bride familiar with different parts of the grounds, taking particular interest in showing her a clump of valuable bushes which were given him as a wedding present by Doorn friends. A few movie men attempted to film the couple near the porter's lodge. They hurried into the castle when they discovered the photographers. Wedding guests were departing today. Prince Eitel, Frederick, who left yesterday, was followed today by Prince Henry. The former crown prince will remain until Friday.

ALCOHOL BLAMED FOR DEATH

Scott Johnson Succumbs After Drinking Bout, Police Say

Acute alcoholism is said to have caused the death of Scott Johnson, interior decorator, Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock while riding in an automobile on Lafayette-rd seven miles east of Lima.

Death followed a drinking bout, police say, altho until a chemical analysis of the stomach is finished cannot be determined whether death resulted from fumes of an ingredient of moonshine whisky poisoning or from the continued excessive use of alcohol.

Mystery, which police have not yet been able to fathom, surrounds the death of Johnson, as both his companions declare that the dead man remarked about his good health when they were leaving Lima at 2 p. m., and did not complain or show signs of sickness until five minutes before he died.

SPASM OF RAIN

Death was accompanied by a spasm of severe pain and by a violent fit of shaking, they assert.

Henry Sauer, 226 1-2 N. Main-st., and Glen O. Eversale, 617 N. Collett-st., together with Johnson, left Lima at 2 p. m., and drove to the farm of George Feltner near Lafayette, and stayed for a consoling time, Sauer and Eversale assert. They then drove to the farm of Jim Walls, where they stayed about a half hour, they added.

Death came on the way back to Lima, following a fit of shaking, during which Johnson complained of feeling ill.

The body was taken to Williams and Davis' mortuary, where Dr. D. T. McGriff, acting coroner, performed an autopsy, following which he declared that alcoholism was the cause of death.

A chemical analysis of the stomach contents is being made and will be finished late Monday afternoon. It is expected to determine exactly the actual poison which brought death.

Johnson, who lived at 627 N. Main-st., was employed for the past few weeks in Delphos. He has no relatives in this city. The only kin discovered by police is a sister, Mrs. Carl Harris of Port Wayne, Ind.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

WARRANTS SWORN OUT IN OHIO ELECTION SCANDAL

Pike-co Officials are Charged With Attempted Frauds—One Is Arrested and Four Others Sought—Accused Of Trying to Purchase Votes

WAVERLY, Ohio. — (Associated Press) — Pike-co, the scene of many a hot political battle, today was provided with even more than the usual pre-election day excitement.

Charges of attempted election frauds had brought about the arrest of one man and the swearing out of warrants against four more.

All are charged with attempting to buy votes of absent voters and a "citizens' protective committee," headed by Judge A. Z. Blair, of Portsmouth, who was on the bench during the Adams-co election fraud trials several days ago, has started a "clean-up" campaign.

The man under arrest is Ernest Dowdle, Waverly constable, who was taken into custody on one of three warrants issued at Chillicothe. He will have a hearing before Mayor Minshall there late this afternoon.

L. B. Eylar, deputy county auditor here, is named in the second of the Chillicothe warrants, and the third is for "John Doe," whose identity is unknown. The other two warrants were issued at Portsmouth.

It being charged that the activities of the alleged vote buyers were centered on Pike-co absentees who had been living near Chillicothe and Portsmouth.

FEELING RUNS HIGH

Partisan feeling was so strong early today that in some quarters fears were expressed that trouble might result.

Affidavits by former Pike-co citizens who live near Chillicothe and Portsmouth declared that the men against whom the charges were made had attempted to influence their votes by payments of from $5 to $10. Out of an approximate total of 6,000 voters in Pike-co, 539 absent voters' ballots have been issued. It was announced, and 230 of these already have been returned to the board of elections. All of these it was announced by the "clean-up" committee, would be challenged.

TRAPPED IN SHAFT 200 FEET DEEP

Pennsylvania Workers Buried Soon After Going on Job

MAIN ENTRANCE BLOCKED

Rescue Parties Quickly Organized by Experts

BULLETIN

SPANGLER, Pa. — (Associated Press) — The first rescue party to enter the Reilly coal mine after the explosion this morning reported at noon today that they had found three bodies and feared that some, if not all of the other 90 men entombed are dead.

SPANGLER, Pa. — (Associated Press) — A terrific explosion somewhere in the workings in the Reilly mine of the Reilly Coal Company here, at 7:30 o'clock this morning, entombed between 90 and 95 miners who had gone to their work scarcely half an hour before.

Superintendent O. J. Wlanagan at once organized a rescue party from employees in the vicinity and entered the mine.

The extent of the explosion has not yet been determined but at the office of the company it was said it had been "pretty bad."

Mine rescue cars were at once ordered from Pittsburgh and some point in New York state, while news of the explosion, spreading rapidly thru this region, brought scores of miners eager and anxious to help in the work of rescue. They were being organized by trained leaders and were ready in two hours to take the places of the first shift when it came out of the mine.

MAIN ENTRY BLOCKED

Most of the men who went to work this morning were married and resided in this vicinity. The news of the explosion brought their wives and children to the shaft mouth where they gathered in dumb horror, hoping against hope.

The shaft which is a cut 200 feet deep was not damaged by the explosion and the cage continued to operate. It was said by mine authorities that one of the main entries was blocked by falling debris about 500 feet from the foot of the shaft.

There is a "man way" which makes another entrance to the mine but whether the entombed men had been cut off from it had not been determined.

RESCUE CARS SENT

PITTSBURGH, Pa. — (Associated Press) — The mine rescue section of the Bureau of Mines was notified this morning of an explosion in the Reilly mine near Spangler, Pa., and ordered a rescue car from this place to proceed to the mine without delay. Another car which is now in New York state also was ordered to Spangler. First reports were that 95 men had been entombed. The Reilly mine is a shaft some 200 feet deep and normally employs about 125 men. It is owned by the Joseph Reilly Coal Company of Philadelphia, and produces about 125,000 tons a year.

MINE CHIEF GOES

PHILADELPHIA. — (Associated Press) — John E. Reilly, general manager of the Joseph H. Reilly Coal Company Incorporated, said he had only indefinite information as to the extent of the explosion in the company's mine at Spangler. Mr. Reilly said every provision for the comfort and treatment of injured men was provided at the mine. He left at once for Spangler where he expected to arrive late today.

It was learned in railroad circles here that the Cambridge Mining Company of Johnstown started an emergency rescue crew for Spangler by motor truck.

Spangler is in the northwest corner of Cambria-co.

SOME FACTS ABOUT YOUR SUNDAY EDITION OF THE LIMA NEWS

So many complimentary remarks were received Monday concerning the big Sunday edition of The Lima News, a survey of records for the last few years was prompted. One interesting fact stands out in connection with the paper you received yesterday.

More print paper was consumed in printing the Sunday edition than was used in two weeks only nine years ago.

Approximately seven tons of white paper went into the Sunday edition. That would have served to print editions for 14 days nine years ago. This is due to growth of business and the rapid increase in circulation.

This comparison shows the great growth of YOUR newspaper.

So consistent has been the effort of The Lima News during the last several years to give the public the best newspaper in Northwestern Ohio and so heartily has the public cooperated in its support The News has become the "Paper That Everybody in the Lima District Reads."

The News received more complimentary remarks concerning its Sunday edition than any edition published recently. With all modesty, it is admitted that it was a good paper. It was not, however, a special edition, but a regular edition. Carrying far more news and advertising matter than any competitor, the Sunday edition was simply another proof of the ability and capacity of The News to handle big things in a big way.

ELECTION FRAUD IS CHARGED

Pike-co, residents now living in Scioto and Ross-co, today featured the eleventh hour of Ohio's strenuous political campaign.

Practically all candidates for election in Ohio spent the day of the campaign in their home districts. Most of them wound up their strenuous campaigns Saturday night.

The polls will be open in Ohio tomorrow from 5:30 a. m. until 5:30 p. m. central time. In eastern Ohio, where Eastern time is used, the polls will be open from 6:30 a. m. until 6:30 p. m. Eastern time.

Dry workers continued their campaign in the churches yesterday against the proposed amendment to legalize the sale of wine and beer in Ohio. They pointed out that adoption of the amendment could not result in the sale of wine and beer in violation of the Volstead law, but that it would mean the killing of Ohio's prohibition enforcement machinery.

WOMEN CANDIDATES
In addition to the wine and beer amendment, the wet and dry issue will enter many of the 22 congressional races in the state. Fourteen congressional candidates have been classed as "dry," and 28 have been classed as "wet."

For the first time in the history of the state, Ohio voters tomorrow will be confronted with two women candidates for high office. Mrs. Virginia Darlington Greene, of Cleveland, is an independent candidate for United States senator, and Miss Florence E. Allen of Cleveland is an independent candidate for judge of the state supreme court. Miss Allen is now a common pleas judge in Cleveland.

NATION'S EYES ON BATTLE IN OHIO

(BY LAWRENCE MARTIN)
NEW YORK (United Press)—Spurring their weary workers to one last effort political strategists of both parties today put everything they had into an eleventh hour attempt to win the "doubtful" states and districts in tomorrow's elections.

With the voting less than 24 hours off, campaign activities in most states had died down to virtually nothing. The workers were devoting their time to checking up on arrangements for getting out as big a vote as possible.

In most states, too, the voters appeared to have made up their minds for the last. In the few states where the light of pending the machine to Brown for "pleasure trips," he told the court.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES

Signs familiar to experienced politicians showed the direction of the political wind in a majority of states. Ohio, President Harding's home state, remained the most hotly contested battle ground of the year, up to the last, with each side claiming victory. It was evident neither side knew just how the voting would go. There were indications that Senator Alcee Pomerene, Democrat, had the better of his fight with Representative S. D. Fess, Republican, for the senatorial seat. These indications, however, were discounted by some of Pomerene's own friends, who recalled that he was elected at a time when everything pointed to the overwhelming success of his Republican opponent.

The Ohio governorship contest between A. Vic Donahy, Democrat, and Carol A. Thompson, Republican, looked like a dead heat today. Everything that the Harding administration could do, short of a personal appeal by President Harding to the people of the state, has been done to win for Thompson. Donahy has had to combat not only the effective and extensive Republican organization but has suffered from thinly veiled hostility of some Ohio Democrats, who fought him in the primaries, and are said by Donahy's friends to have done little for him in the campaign proper.

The national administration will be more elated by a victory in Ohio than in any other state at corresponding time in the past. Donahy has his heart set on getting approval for his administration thus far from his home folks and if they do not approve, he will feel it keenly.

NEW YORK SITUATION

In New York state also, last minute efforts were being made in behalf of the governor candidates, Al Smith, Democrat, and Nathan Miller, Republican. Smith's cohorts were more in evidence than Miller's, the latter were quietly in action "on the inside" of the G. O. P. organization.

In Missouri where Jim Reed's fate hung in the balance, both he and his Republican opponent, R. R. Brewster, were trying to turn the moments into votes, with the issue of their state-wide organization. Other states where the issue seemed somewhat in doubt, were Wyoming, where Senator Kendrick, Democrat, is opposed by Representative Mondell, Republican and majority leader in the last house; Maryland, where Senator France, Republican, was neck and neck with William C. Bruce, Democrat, and Rhode Island, where Senator Peter G. Gerry, Democrat, was contesting with former Governor Beaman.

FIVE PARTIES IN COLORADO

SAN FRANCISCO.—(Associated Press).—Citizens of the far western states will vote tomorrow to fill practically all the federal and state offices within their control.

One United States senator each from Utah, Wyoming, Nevada, Washington, New Mexico, Arizona, and California is running for re-election. In Montana, however, the name of Senator H. L. Myers is not on the ballot and three nominees are seeking his place. Oregon, Idaho and Colorado do not elect senators this year.

Colorado has five parties represented among its nominees. California has a prohibition law issue and a project to make $10,000,000 available to former service men for farms and homes.

In Nevada a measure would give trial judges the discretion of granting final or interlocutory divorce decrees.

Montana has up an issue to determine whether pari-mutuel betting machines may be used at horse races and also will vote on a soldier's bonus.

HARDING TO GET RETURNS

WASHINGTON.—(Associated Press).—President Harding will receive election returns tomorrow night in his study in the White House over several telegraph wires which will carry newspaper compilations and reports from Republican leaders over the country. Secretary Christian will give the returns to the president by telephone.

The election results probably will be sent by the president from time to time to Mrs. Harding, who is said to have been showing considerable interest in the campaign, having read political articles in the newspapers almost daily during the past few weeks of her convalescence.

REVENUE STAMPS QUESTIONED

Federal Authorities to Examine Alleged Bonded Liquor

Destruction of 220 quarts of liquor confiscated by Allen-co authorities when they arrested Dan Brown, Cleveland, a week ago, is being denied pending federal investigation of revenue stamps on the bottles, Sheriff Baxter announced Monday.

Belief that the "stamps are forged products of men who pass the liquor off as bonded booze," was expressed by the executive. "Until the matter can be investigated by federal authorities," he declared, not a drop of the liquor will be destroyed.

Further questioning of the validity of labels marking the liquor as being or recognized standard brands was expressed by the sheriff. "If it is to be given to the federal agents for their investigation," he declared.

Federal Authorities to Examine Alleged Bonded Liquor

Destruction of 220 quarts of liquor confiscated by Allen-co authorities when they arrested Dan Brown, Cleveland, a week ago, is being denied pending federal investigation of revenue stamps on the bottles, Sheriff Baxter announced Monday.

Belief that the "stamps are forged products of men who pass the liquor off as bonded booze," was expressed by the executive. "Until the matter can be investigated by federal authorities," he declared, not a drop of the liquor will be destroyed.

Further questioning of the validity of labels marking the liquor as being or recognized standard brands was expressed by the sheriff. "If it is to be given to the federal agents for their investigation," he declared.

The 220 quarts now in Baxter's possession contain a variety of alleged genuine brands, he announced. He expressed the belief that it is all bonded stuff.

OWNERSHIP TO BE SETTLED

While the liquor is being held for investigation, Justice E. M. Botkin, before whom Brown's case was tried, will conduct a hearing to determine the ownership of the roadside automobile also confiscated and in which the 220 quarts of liquor are said to have been carried.

William Deutsch, Cleveland, to whom the license on the car was issued, has filed action to reprieve the machine, claiming it is his property. He asserts that he owns $150 on the machine and that he had no knowledge that Brown had been using it for carrying bonded liquor. He was in the habit of lending the machine to Brown for "pleasure trips," he told the court.

Botkin has ordered the car sold. The order will be carried into execution Wednesday unless a showing is made by Deutsch, he said. Unrecovered of the sale will go towards satisfying any claims against it, according to law. Any balance will be given to the owner.

Brown, who admitted two charges, one of transportation and one of possession, placed against him in Botkin's court, and who was fined a total of $2,000 is still in county jail for lack of payment of the fines.

MOTHER OF MRS. CROOKS DIES AT DAUGHTER'S HOME

Mother love can forgive. Even greater than this, mother love can forget.

Because of her all-powerful affection for her daughter, a Lima mother is waiting, anxiously, tearfully, prayerfully for the return of her daughter—the mother's heart craves the solace of the sight of her child, and the transgression which took the girl from the parental fire-side will be forgotten.

The mother's story, mingled with sobs, was told to police when she asked their aid in finding the girl, who followed the call of infatuation and started on the voyage of life "without benefit of clergy."

"The state started with the acquaintance of the girl with a lad of a nearby city, several months ago. It ripened into love, and the mother, desiring to keep her 18-year-old daughter near her forbade the youth to come to the house."

Reports of clandestine meetings have come to the mother's ears. She believed that the faithful infatuation would soon be forgotten. The mother sobbed that her home was apparently at peace. She had no suspicion that the couple might elope, which they did Saturday.

"Find my daughter," the mother cried. "Send her home and let her start life in the right way."

RED CROSS FUND DRIVE IS PLANNED AT DELPHOS

Plans for a fund campaign by Delphos Chapter, American Red Cross, were discussed by women leaders at a meeting Saturday night. Mrs. George Stalkamp, Mrs. E. E. May, Mrs. W. C. Dewese and Mrs. George Limbach will be in charge of the solicitation by the women.

A house-to-house canvass will be conducted, Mrs. Mank declared Monday. For every section of the city save the business district will be handled by the women.

The campaign will open November 13 and will be concluded as rapidly as possible. Solicitations for the Red Cross nursing fund will also be made.

The men in charge of the business house canvassing are W. J. Steiner, Rev. George H. Gibson, George Ledemann and Dr. E. Burnett. They will meet either Monday night or some other time early this week for the purpose of drafting plans.

STIMMEN ENTERING RUSSIA

MOSCOW—Hugo Stimmes, the specialist German industrial prince is preparing for a successful invasion of Russia by means of thirty correspondents of the Telegraphen Union of which Stimmes holds a majority of stock. The plan contemplates placing a correspondent in every important Russian center, they to submit regular reports on the economic and industrial situation in their respective districts. This would indicate that the Stimmes group intend to force itself into Russian trade at the earliest opportunity.

"Of all the women in the world, the English (Hoppe is English) and American women are the most beautiful. The superiority of the American eyes with their lot de vivre balances the English superiority of ankles and coiffure. English and America beauties run a dead heat."

Hoppe's list of the most beautiful American women is composed of Mrs. Lydie Hoyt, Lady Lavery, Miss Malvina Longfellow, Miss Marion Davies, and Viscountess Maitland.

His English selections are Lady Diana Duff-Gordon, Miss Gladys Cooper, Miss Kathelene Martyn and Hebe.

"America is a perplexing country to the artist in search of fair women," he declares the beauty expert. "In other lands one merely searches for the national type and waits patiently until one has found the most perfect of that type. But in the United States there is no type, that cosmopolitan continent furnishes beauty in surprising ranges, from blue-eyed maidens whose natural set thing would seem to be Madrid, to those as fair as ever out of Scandinavia."

"What surprises me a great deal about the American women is the way in which the Anglo-Saxon influence has been subdued. I had expected to find a predominance of the blond type, but there is more of the Southern influence—Spanish and Italian with a considerable strain of Irish."

AMERICAN GIRL HAS GRACE
"American women differ from English women in a certain naive child—approaching almost to the instinctive grace of the French woman; a certain intellectual flair; a liveliness—all typical of a mixed race, still young enough to be content to imitate unconsciously the type it most admires, and being able to do so since it possesses the inherited characteristics of so many different nationalities."

"Altho I am proud of the English girl's eyes, those of her American sister are more striking, for they are more dynamic and more fascinating. The American girl's eyes are spiritually splendid, reflecting keen humor and quick perception in their depths."

"When you converse with women of other countries they adopt a dreamy or faraway look. The American girl looks you straight in the eyes. She gives the impression that her first wish is to be frank, that she has no desire to cover up the windows of her soul. In her eyes her every emotion is flashed. She seems to be continually heliographing her personality, her interests, her enthusiasms."

Senatorial Campaign

LINES BROKEN IN MISSOURI

Reed Draws Opposition of Drys,
Wilson Democrats

CHICAGO — (Associated Press) — Senatorial campaigns in nine states of the middle west end today. The windup finds six United States senators from central states seeking reelection. They are — Republicans: Townsend (Michigan); Kellogg (Minnesota); LaFollette (Wisconsin).

Democrats — Hitchcock (Nebraska); Reed (Missouri); Pomerenke (Ohio). Former Senator Beveridge, Progressive leader in the days of Bull Moose activities, is the standard bearer of Indiana Republicans in his campaign to go back to the upper branch of congress.

Lynn J. Frazier, former Non-Partisan League governor of North Dakota, bears the Republican label in that state for the McCumber seat. In Iowa where Smith W. Brookhart is the Republican nominee for the senatorial toga, the closing campaign found a more or less organized Republican revolt against the Brookhart candidacy.

MISSOURI BATTLE — In Missouri a considerable shattering of party lines was apparent in the senatorial campaign, with Senator James A. Reed drawing opposition from drys and Wilson Democrats, at the same time relying on many Republican wets to desert Reginald Brewster on the wet and dry issue.

The Harding administration is the big issue in Ohio.

The Nebraska contest between Senator Hitchcock and R. B. Howell is largely one of party principles. Two women from the middle west, Mrs. Annie Dickie Olsen in Minnesota and Mrs. J. J. Hooper in Wisconsin, both Democrats, are among the senatorial aspirants.

Senator LaFollette, during the closing days of the campaign, left Wisconsin and went into Minnesota and North Dakota, where he took the stump for Henrik Shipstead, the Farmer-Labor candidate against Senator Kellogg and for Taylor.

Illinois without a senatorial contest, has witnessed congressional campaign battles of considerable intensity. Illinois also votes on a $25,000,000 bond issue for a soldiers' bonus and a referendum on beer and wine sentiment.

KING ALFONSO OF SPAIN IS GOOD TO HIMSELF

LONDON.—King Alfonso of Spain spends $10,000 yearly on ordinary personal attire. Most of this goes to London tailors, who, the King says, are the only men in the world who "know how to make a pair of pants."

No other European monarch spends anything like that amount on dress, nor is there one so punctilious about being garbed in the latest fashion.

The youthful ruler is never seen more than a half dozen times in the same suit and many are discarded after being worn once or twice.

He complains bitterly if the number of suits in the Royal Wardrobe falls below 100 and affairs of state must wait for it to be replenished. Alfonso averages each year around 120 new suits, 60 fancy waistcoats, 200 shirts and 100 scarfs and boots, hats, etc. in proportion.

GERMANS TIRED OF GRIEF. LAUGH AT CHAS. CHAPLIN

(By GUS M. OEHM.) — BERLIN.—Charlie Chaplin is rapidly assuming the role of Germany's national hero.

Despite the fact that Chaplin is English born and that his films are made in America, Germans flock to see his antics whenever they are shown. Old Chaplin films and a few newer ones, including the "Kid" in which he co-starred with Jackie Coogan, are packing the houses nightly throughout Germany.

Germans, fed up with long dry history films, are turning to something light for a change. Chaplin is certainly giving the German people a good hearty laugh—something they need almost as much as they need bread and meat.

MRS. HALL IN ROLE OF AVENGER

Takes Active Charge of Search
For Murderer

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (United Press) — Mrs. Frances N. Hall, accused by an alleged eyewitness of the murder of her husband and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, came forward today in the role of avenger.

The widow, according to reliable information from the Hall home, has taken active charge of a search for the murderer. The pose of reserve and indifference she assumed since the murder has been dropped and Mrs. Hall now directs a probe in which private detectives, lawyers and all members of the Stevens and Carpenter families are engaged.

Each evening Mrs. Hall hears reports from her agents in the parlor of her home where she gave out a remarkable interview in which she indicated she did not want the murderer punished nor exposed. Contrasting with her publicly expressed attitude, it is said, is the vigor with which she has thrown herself into the pursuit and tracking down of Dr. Hall's slayer.

CAUSES AMAZEMENT

The widow applies herself all day long to the sorting out of clues which she declared she will not use until she has tracked down the guilty party. This information came to light in a roundabout way. It appeared authentic, but could not be confirmed thru Timothy N. Pfeiffer, Mrs. Hall's attorney.

The news caused amazement in New Brunswick, where Mrs. Hall's passive attitude has been much commented upon.

Mrs. Gibson's accusations against Mrs. Hall made the latter's refusal to offer rewards and push the prosecution a subject for speculation which will be largely removed if the townfolk confirm the current report of the widow's activities.

ENTENTE FIRM, HOWEVER

Refuse to Heed Warning To Quit Constantinople

CONSTANTINOPLE. (Associated Press.)—The Turkish Nationalist government has handed a note to the allied high commissioners to the effect that the warships of all nations must ask it for authorization to pass the straits of the Dardanelles, the Havas correspondent here has been informed. They must also salute the new government of Turkey.

CONSTANTINOPLE. (Associated Press.)—The Turkish Nationalists, after overthrowing the Sultan's government and declaring him bereft of his civil power are now seeking fresh conquests in a manner that may bring about trouble with the allies.

Last night the Nationalists demanded withdrawal of the allied troops from Constantinople and served notice that allied or American sailors would not be permitted to land from their warships at Kemalist ports except by special permission of the Ankara government.

An extraordinary meeting of the allied commissioners quickly assembled to decide what stand they should take in the quickly altered situation, determined that they would refuse categorically the Nationalist demand for military evacuation of Constantinople by the allied forces.

RAILWAYS DEMANDED.

The Turkish Nationalist government in an additional note to the allied commissioners stated that the Turkish railways in Europe and Asia which are under temporary allied control, be handed over to the Ankara government immediately. Over the week-end the Nationalists also backed up against the allies with a show of physical power, with a seeming disregard for the agreements in the Mudania convention.

Turkish frontiers have now moved into areas known as neutral. They are advancing into the Chanaq area. The allied high commissioners have accepted the new regime in Constantinople with Rafet Pascha, the military governor of Thrace, as governor of the city. And the Sultan's government has accepted its downfall, although Mohammed VI still considers himself the lawful constitutional ruler of Turkey. He has not officially recognized the decision of the Grand National Assembly at Ankara declaring his abdication.

His abdication resigned Sunday evening and shortly afterward his Grand Vizier telegraphed all foreign representatives of the Sultan to leave the capitals to which they are accredited and hand over their archives to representatives of the Ankara government.

SULTAN DEPARTS.

In Ankara the religious committee of the assembly is hurriedly trying to choose the person it considers most qualified to ascend the Osman throne as caliph in succession to Mohammed VI. Meanwhile the Sultan still remains caliph in the view of the Nationalists and Rafet Pascha has served notice that an attack against his person would be regarded as an offense against the Muslim religion.

The writer of week-end changes in the control of Constantinople has brought about great consternation and turmoil. All the Christians seen in great fear of a massacre.

The Turkish republic has been two days and two nights celebrating the change in government. At one time the demonstrations became so wild and so potentially dangerous that allied soldiers had to fire upon the mobs to disperse them. Several Turks were killed by these shots.

FRANCE MEETS POSTPONED.

LONDON. (Associated Press.)—As a result of the new situation created in Constantinople by the demand of Rafet Pascha that the allied military occupation of the city cease, the peace conference called to be held at Lausanne November 13, has been postponed, possibly for a fortnight, it was announced here today.

It is stated in authoritative circles that in no circumstances will the British point of view regarding the presence of allied troops in Constantinople be changed. The British intend to uphold the Mudania armistice agreement and remain in the neutral zone with their troops.

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made.

Here's an easy way to save $2. and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? Thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep a house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will soon earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex, then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membrane, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments. To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. WILL TEACH WOMEN ART OF SHOPPING

ELIZABETH DYER

Most husbands and fathers would agree that women are natural born shoppers and that they don't need to be taught—it's a gift. The point is, however, that many of them do need to be taught intelligent buying so they can get the value of the dollars they spend. For this reason, New York University has added a course in buying, and Miss Elizabeth Dyer has been made the instructor.

Miss Dyer is a Vassar graduate, whose desire to do social service led her to a department store. Her educational work among the girl clerks and her experiences there have been such a wide knowledge of selling that she decided to make retail her career.

One of her tasks is to arrange for actual store experience in the big New York department stores for students of the university.

DEMOCRATIC OPTIMISM AT COLUMBUS GROWS

Bath and American-tp Farmers Asked to Approve Inspection

Signatures of 75 percent or more farmers of Bath and American-tp, who raise cattle are being sought by those in favor of tuberculin testing of cattle.

It is planned to have the cattle inspected and have the area designated by the federal government as disease free. H. J. Ridge, farm agent, said Monday.

Packing companies are paying a premium of 10 cents per 100 pounds for hogs which are raised in these areas approved by the federal officials, Ridge said.

If the movement receives the proper attention by Bath and American-tp farmers, the hog shippers from those two counties will receive 10 cents per 100 pounds more for their hogs than the farmers in adjoining areas.

As soon as the inspection of the two townships is completed it is possible that a movement will be started to have all the cattle in the county tested, Ridge said. The work would be under the direction of the Allen-co Farm Bureau.

The Mistake

That millions have corrected

As most folks know, brushing teeth in old ways proved most disappointing. Teeth still discolored, still decayed. Beautiful teeth were seen less often than today. Tooth troubles came to 49 in 50.

Millions of people, nearly all the world over, have found a better method. The glistening teeth you see everywhere now show one of the results.

All due to film

Most cloudy teeth and most tooth troubles are now traced to film. Film is that viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays. Food stains, etc., discolor it, then it forms dingy coats. Tartar is based on film. Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. No ordinary tooth paste effectively combats film. So, despite all brushing, very few escaped those film-caused troubles.

Two new methods

Then dental science, after long research, found two film combatants. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

Able authorities proved those methods efficient. Then leading dentists everywhere began to advise their use.

A new-type tooth paste was created, based on modern research. The name is Pepsodent. Then these two film combatants were embodied in it for daily application.

YOUR CANDIDATES

C. C. MILLER

Among the important duties to be performed by the voters of Allen-co. on Tuesday is the selection of a representative to the state legislature.

The Democratic candidate, Clarence C. Miller, is a native of Columbus Grove, born in that village in 1886. He graduated from the high school there in 1903 and for two years was a teacher in the school of Putnam-co. He has resided in Lima since 1906, save for about two and a half years in Ada, where he served as village solicitor.

Miller is a protégé of the late Hon. Walter B. Ritchie, having been employed in his law offices in Lima, as a stenographer and clerk from 1906 to 1914. He was admitted to the practice of law in Ohio in June of 1913. For six years he was privately employed and returned to the practice of law about two years ago. He has attained considerable legal and business experience and is well qualified to look after the interests of Allen-co. in the legislature.

Miller is a stickler for the constitution. He believes that too often the legislature enacts laws that eventually the courts declare unconstitutional. This involves great expense which might be saved. He holds to the view that the constitution is the will of the people and that the legislature should exercise every precaution to enact no laws that are in conflict with it.

He believes that state government expense should be cut to the quick if the people are to be relieved of the staggering burden of taxation that has been heaped upon them. He believes that if a session of the legislature did nothing save repeal useless laws it would be a Godsend to the people.

This is Miller's first venture as a candidate for office. He has always been actively interested in politics. Fraternally he is a Knight of Pythias, Mason and Elk. On account of his unquestioned integrity and ability, the voters of Allen-co. should have no hesitancy in electing him to this position of importance and responsibility.

CLEVELAND'S POPULATION. CLEVELAND.—The Smith, Jones, Johnson, Brown and Miller families continued to lead Cleveland's population with the largest number of members, recent census figures reveal. Greater Cleveland, which includes suburbs, has a population of 976,520. Of this number the Smiths have 3,445; the Millers 2,423; the Browns 1,750; the Johnsons 1,500 and the Jones 1,471. Riemen-Schneider and Ciennocozowski are tied for the longest name recorded and Ek, Ur and Wy are tied for the shortest.

WILSON SEES TRIUMPH OF DEMOCRATIC PRINCIPLES

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. — On the eve of the election, Woodrow Wilson has sent a telegram to the Democrats of Jefferson-co., W. Va., predicting that "the near future" will witness a triumph of the Democratic party's principles and purposes on behalf of the country and mankind.

The tone of the telegram indicates that the former president expects a democratic victory and vindication for his principles in the elections.

To Everybody

In Allen County

Whatever may be the wish of the electors of Lima, and Allen County, as expressed by their action at the polls tomorrow, I wish at this time to express to The Lima News my appreciation of its many acts of kindness, courtesy and loyalty to myself and the entire Democratic ticket, during this remarkably active and clean campaign just closed.

I wish to thank at this time the host of friendly men and women all over the county, regardless of politics, that it has been such a pleasure to meet during the last few months.

My experiences convince me that the people of Allen-co. must be the Salt of the Earth, for nowhere, even in the camp of the enemy have I met an unkind word.

Confident of victory for myself and the entire democratic ticket tomorrow, I thank you all again for your hearty support (which I hope will continue thruout tomorrow), and a mighty good time at the party.

Very Sincerely Yours,
DR. FRANK SMITH

Modern research also discovered two other essentials, and Pepsodent fulfills them.

It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to constantly neutralize the acids which cause decay. It multiplies the starch digestant in saliva. That is there to digest deposits on teeth which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

Thus Pepsodent twice daily, gives manifold power to Nature's great tooth-protecting agents in the mouth.

New beauty comes
Users of Pepsodent gain new beauty, new charm. You see that everywhere. Note how many pretty teeth show — teeth which were once concealed. No woman, no man, who once sees these results will ever go without them.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Note the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

This test will be a delightful revelation. It will point the way, for you and yours, to life-long benefits. Cut out the coupon so you won't forget.

W. E. MCGRATE

One of the offices to be filled in each and every county that is of the greatest importance is that of sheriff. The duties of this position are such as to require that the one to whom is delegated authority; in a great degree shall be of exceptional ability.

In the selection by the Democratic party of William E. McGrate as its candidate for this position, it is felt that a choice is presented with whom citizens in all walks of life and in all parties may safely entrust the duties of that place.

McGrate is a resident of Bath-tp. He has resided in Allen-co. for many years. He is a native of Putnam-co., having been born at Columbus Grove August 27, 1876, the son of Joseph McGrate. He became a student at the Ohio Northern University in Ada in 1899, remaining two years, taking a teachers' and commercial course, graduating in the bookkeeping course. During his collegiate term he was a member of the Varsity football team.

After two years as a bookkeeper for the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, he became an insurance salesman. He was clerk of the city under the administration of Mayor Doan Robb and then bought a farm in Bath-tp, where he has been a resident for six years. McGrate is a member of the Allen County Farm Bureau. He is married and has two children, a son and a daughter.

If elected sheriff, he will enter upon his duties unpledged to any individual or organization, save to all the people, with a promise to enforce the laws and conduct the affairs of the office in an honest, competent and thorough manner.

TOO MUCH TALK, SAYS NEWMAN

Cause of Donahay-Moore Dispute, He Asserts

THIRD PARTY IS BLAMED

Both of the Democratic Leaders Are Defended

(COLUMBUS—Associated Press) "Perpetrating the 'disagreement' between A. V. Donahay, Democratic candidate for governor, and Ed Moore of Youngstown, John H. Newman, head of the Donahay Boosters' club, with headquarters here, today declared in a statement that 'it is but the confirmation of the old saying, 'Deliver us from our fool friends.'"

"The trouble is neither with Mr. Donahay nor with Mr. Moore," said Newman. "I will venture that it is with a third party, a character similar to the one to whom the Indian referred when he said, 'Talky, talky, too much talky.'"

"I am very sorry that there should have been any disagreement between these men," said Newman. "No man has served his party more courageously, both in state and nation, than Mr. Moore. To him, more than any other single man, is due the wonderful victory won by Ohio in the San Francisco national convention when the Honorable James M. Cox was nominated for president. In that fight Ed Moore ate but little and slept but little till the battle was won."

"As for Vic Donahay and his services, it would be presumptuous on my part to give them publicity. However, suffice it to say that for many years he has served his state with a fidelity, an efficiency and an honesty seldom seen in an official."

JAIL SENTENCE IS GIVEN HESS

Admits Driving Automobile While Intoxicated

William Hess, 329 S. Elizabeth-st., pleaded guilty to driving an automobile while intoxicated, in criminal court, Monday. He was fined $10 and sentenced to ten days in the county jail by Judge Emmett Jackson.

J. L. Morningstar recently released on parole from Toledo, pleaded guilty to receiving stolen property and was fined $25 and sentenced to 30 days in the county jail.

Morningstar is said to have purchased a blanket for 75 cents. He denied that he knew it was stolen when he bought it. His record is being investigated.

L. Z. Daniels pleaded not guilty to a charge of grand larceny and was bound over to the grand jury on $200 bond, after waiving preliminary hearing. He is alleged to have stolen a quantity of clothing. Ed Phillips and his wife, Mrs. Flossie Phillips, 111 1-3 E. Wayne-st., entered pleas of not guilty to charges of keeping a house of ill fame and were released on bonds of $100 pending trial.

Phillips pleaded guilty to a charge of possessing illicit liquor and was fined $300.

Ruth Milonas and Virginia Blair, Dayton, pleaded not guilty to charges of soliciting and were held for trial under $50 bond.

Joe Hoover, Samuel Adams, Ben Larson, and Dick Stone, all admitted imbibing too heavily over the week-end and were each fined $15 on drunk charges.

LIABILITIES LISTED AT $1,700,000, ASSETS $28.32

KANSAS CITY.—Some of the strongest financial institutions in the southwest began counting their losses today as a result of the bankruptcy proceeding of R. R. Smith, oil broker, listing liabilities at $1,700,000. Smith's petition listed $28.32 cash as assets. A large part was contracted on notes of the Globe Co., and other stocks which are said to have been worthless.

The new "Ponzi" listed banks throughout the southwest as among his creditors, and the Commerce Trust and other of the strongest institutions were in the list.

Smith for a number of years, was a section hand for the Burlington at Liancus, Mo. Later he was elected county treasurer and after other minor successes dabbled in oil with the result he became a millionaire over night.

SEARCH IS MADE FOR MISSING BUSINESS MAN

CHICAGO.—The trail of J. Howard Jayne, Monmouth business man, who was found with his memory gone in a local hospital after a nation-wide search lasting more than a week, was carefully checked by authorities today.

Jayne disappeared from a train bound from Monmouth to Chicago. Authorities have learned that he went or was taken south, visiting Birmingham, Chattanooga and other southern cities. A mysterious stranger is believed to have accompanied him.

After twenty hours in a vain effort to make her husband recognize her, Mrs. Jayne collapsed and was in a serious condition.

Mrs. Jayne has insisted since her husband's disappearance that he was the victim of business enemies.

LIMA PASTOR, SPEAKER IN DELPHOS DRY MEET, RAPS BEER AMENDMENT

Prospect of the light wine and beer issue carrying in the election Tuesday is seen by Rev. E. Bruce Jacobs, Lima minister who addressed a rally at the Methodist church in Delphos Sunday night. Unless the temperance element goes to the polls in large numbers, indications are the amendment may carry, Jacobs warned.

He spoke to 500 Delphos and nearby residents. Practically every church in the city was represented at the meeting. No effort was made to get a testimonial from the assembly.

Jacobs used as his text "Be Not Deceived." The minister warned against overconfidence. He urged that the temperance people should take nothing for granted and not rest on their oars until the victory is won.

A collection for the Allen County Dry Federation was taken up. The Methodist orchestra, led by W. G. Point, gave the musical program.

DRUNKENNESS CHARGED

Alfred Pettig, 30, arrested in Delphos Sunday on a charge of being drunk and disorderly, will be given a hearing Monday evening before Mayor J. K. Williams. Pettig is a rump, with both feet and a hand maimed. He was released on his own recognizance.

DO YOUR DUTY

TOMORROW is election day. It is your duty, as a citizen of Ohio, to register your will at the polls in the selection of officials, state, judicial, congressional, senatorial, county and on the propositions affecting state, county and city.

The polls will be open from 5:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. and you should so arrange your affairs that you will be able to cast your ballot, expressing your sentiment, no matter what position you may take for or against the men or measures offered.

This newspaper believes that the best interests of the state will be conserved by the election of the Democratic ticket. It has advocated the candidacy of Allee Pomerene for United States senator and A. Victor Donahay for governor, together with the entire state ticket. We believe that Judges Stanley Matthews and Thomas D. Price should be elected as judges of the supreme court.

The election of J. H. Goeke of this city for congressman is urged. Judge Phil H. Crow should be returned to the court of appeals bench and Earl F. Ferguson should be chosen as state senator. Clarence C. Miller deserves election as county representative, as do all the candidates on the Democratic ticket. Do not forget that the Democratic judicial candidates appear on a non-partisan separate ticket, that the names rotate with others and that you must familiarize yourself with the names—Judges Matthews, Price and Crow.

Vote your sentiment on the state taxation amendments and the beer and wine amendments. These are serious matters which each and every person should decide for himself or herself.

This newspaper has advocated the success of the school bonds and increased city tax levy. The future of Lima will be greatly affected by their adoption or rejection.

Then there is the question of issuing bonds for county fair purposes and the daylight saving proposition. The latter has not been a real issue and has been opposed by this newspaper. There should be no interference with the present system of time.

HIT DAYLIGHT SAVING

ONE of the propositions which will be laid before the voters of Lima in the Tuesday election is that of the acceptance or rejection of Eastern time.

While there may be arguments of a tenable character in favor of this innovation, there are so many things that militate against it, disclosed after a trial of the change during the recent summer months, there should be no question of its defeat at the hands of the people.

So-called daylight saving, which for this territory is in reality the adoption of Eastern time, is the parent of confusion, since railroad trains are operated on what is known as Central Standard time, the legal time; courts are opened and closed at fixed hours according to Central time; all county affairs are operated on the legal time and there is no authority for changing the hands of the clocks in the courthouse tower. There are so many other arguments against its adoption.

Lima's experience with daylight saving, twice tried, has been anything but satisfactory. It was the consensus of opinion of many persons that if anyone desired to go to their day's work an hour earlier, no one would object to that sort of arrangement. Even many of those who were its warmest supporters when the proposition came up, were convinced soon after it became a reality, that it was a mistake to foist the plan on all the people.

The benefits that may possibly accrue from daylight saving or Eastern time for this territory are not in proportion to the inconveniences and the hardships it imposes on a majority of persons. In the light of this situation, it is believed that it would be foolhardy for Lima people to vote to sanction it. Representatives of the city administration who fathered it months ago admit now that it is a nuisance.

Vote against the adoption of Daylight Savings plan. Vote NO!

HONK!

IN October the auto factories turned out 244,400 passenger cars and trucks. It was the greatest October ever, for the auto trade. The big previous October record was 200,000 cars in 1919, during the big boom.

The people certainly are expecting good times when they buy cars at the rate of nearly 3,000,000 a year. A good sign, for business booms or slumps according to the psychological state of the public.

BOOM

This reflects prosperity, now and to come. The railroads loaded more than a million cars of freight in the week ended Oct. 31, latest reported. To heat that, you have to go back two years, and even then traffic wasn't much heavier.

Don't worry about a stock market slump as long as the railroads have more business than they can handle. When freight moves heavily, people are buying, and business is betting on prospects.

BY DR. WILLIAM BRADY

THE HOT AIR COUGH

Chronic bronchitis is the usual explanation for the annually recurring winter cough of the aged. Old age is a state of mind primarily, and preventable if taken in time.

One of the earlier warning signals of the approach of old age is the insidiously growing fondness for a place close to the fire, a chimney corner nook, and other forms of cuddling. The metabolism slows down in elderly individuals, the combustion process or vital fire languishes or smolders, the system absorbs less oxygen, and the individual finds it more difficult to keep nice and warm. In youth, when the vital fire burns briskly and metabolism is top hole, why, the only problem is to keep cool and well, but the old folk, with a lower speed of metabolism, practice all sorts of deceptions and employ all sorts of artifices in the attempt to keep warm.

Now what really is the right of this? Do the old folks sit about and avoid physical activity because they are "poorly"? And haven't an active circulation and can't stand the cold weather? Or are these enfeebliments due to the bad habits old folks acquire of sitting around and neglecting the opportunity to get their daily oxygen on the hoof? Does the fire burn low because the draft has been shut off, or is the draft closed because the fire is burning low?

One of the most pernicious habits or practices cultivated by folks with the senile turn of mind is overheating the air of dwellings. When the household temperature is maintained at a point well above 65 degrees F., unless some exceptionally efficient method of moistening the air is employed, the atmosphere becomes dryer than the parched air of the desert and the delicate mucous membrane of the breathing passages can't endure such unnatural dryness long without suffering damage. So here you have the important predisposing factor of chronic bronchitis and winter cough in a majority of cases.

It is a curious fact that a household temperature of 65 degrees F. by artificial heat ordinarily feels more comfortable, less "chilly," to a sedentary person or one much confined indoors, than does such a temperature kept up to or above 75 degrees, for the reason that the moderate heating does not dry out the air so excessively as does the excessive heating. This is difficult to believe until you try it out for yourself.

By all odds the best cough cure I know for the winter cough of the aged is two miles of oxygen on the hoof three times a day and the weather be—well, to put it politely, ignored. Two miles thrice daily is a fair average dose of oxygen, you understand. I do not urge any semi-invalid to crawl out of his bed and attempt to tap off two miles three times the first day of his open air life. If you have cultivated the chimney corner habit for months and years you must break the habit by gentle, easy stages, but you must break it: Six miles of oxygen will make a wonderful difference in the way the vital fire burns, and will help a lot toward keeping you nice and warm. Besides, it takes you out of the Sahara atmosphere for

FUTURES

I'm going to start saving Jack Tomorrow.	I'm gonna cut my smoking down Tomorrow.
I'll take my borrowed boks all back Tomorrow.	I'll eat less lunch when I'm down-tow.
I'll write those letters that I owe; Tomorrow;	I realize I'm oversize.
I'll visit Bill, who's sick; although Tomorrow.	And that my way of life's unwise.
Today I can't, I'll surely go Tomorrow.	I'll start in taking exercise Tomorrow.
I'll read the books I ought to read Tomorrow;	The world would be made over new Tomorrow.
I'll buy those clothes-hooks that we need, Tomorrow;	If folks did what they promised to Tomorrow;
I'll fix that table for my wife, Tomorrow.	Alas, our good intent goes lame,
I'll sharpen up that carrying knife. Tomorrow.	And so we wallow in our shame,
I'll start to lead a nobler life Tomorrow.	And things will be about the same Tomorrow!

He Must Grow

And a child to grow needs 16 elements, fed in right proportions.

All those 16 elements are in oats.

He needs six minerals which are found in oats.

He needs vitamins, and oats supply them.

That is why oats hold the place they do as food for growing children.

Yet the oat is a most economical food.

A large dish of Mother's Oats costs less than one bite of meat.

Then why not serve the finest oats?

Why not get the flavor which only large, rich grains supply?

Why not insist on Mother's Oats, which are made to delight the child?

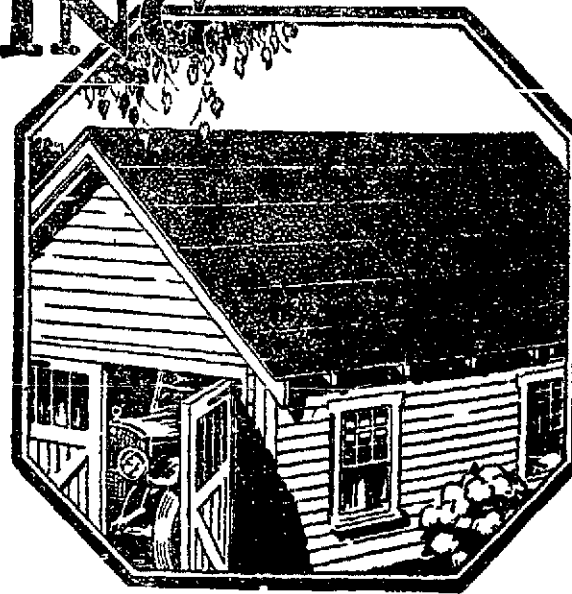

MOTHER'S OATS

The luxury oats—large, luscious flakes

Made for mothers who want children to love oats.

NOVEL HEADDRESS

PARIS has been so fond in presenting elaborate, outstanding headaddresses for the designers that fashion designers have had a hard time and designed the type you see above.

It frames the face and gives a novel effect, but in no way adds a hardship to the person who must wear the same from the rest directly behind.

This particular headaddress is of jet beads of various sizes, but other attractive ones are made of pearls, stones, and semi-precious stones.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

I AM a boy 16 and wish to know if it would be alright to marry a girl about 18. Her love for me equals mine for her and she says she will take me to her mother and make our home there after the marriage. Also please advise a if a boy is justified in kissing a girl on the first night he has been with her if she doesn't object.

TOO CUTE.—Apparently your "fiancee" wants to adopt a little boy and is just "picking" on you. She should be ashamed to put such ridiculous ideas into your youthful mind.

My advice to you would be to wait until you are grown up before you think seriously of marriage. And to this girl of 18 please tell her that I think it would be advisable for her to seek a husband at least her own age or a few years her senior.

Perhaps a young boy is "justified" in kissing a girl on the first evening he is with her providing she offers no objections. However, if she is that type of a girl it would seem that the young boy were not choosing the proper kind of friendship.

Dear Miss Smart: I am a woman 26 years old and am very stout. I have tried everything to reduce but all to no avail. I can not understand this because I seldom eat potatoes or butter. What would you advise me to do? I am very worried because I dislike to be so stout.

REDUCER.—There are many foods besides potatoes and butter which increase the weight. Among them are bread, rice and other cereals, pork, milk, cream, nuts, etc.

Furthermore even the you were to eat sparingly of the fat-producing foods, you will still gain weight if you eat too freely of other foods. You should not only be careful as to the choice of foods, but should cut down the quantity.

If you wish to reduce by walking, it will be necessary to walk from three to five miles a day to do any good.

Doubtless, you would benefit from taking a course of exercise in a gymnasium, under the direction of an instructor in physical training.

Dear Miss Smart:

I AM a young married woman of 26. I have been married for four years. My husband and I never got along at all. For one thing we were too young to get married and our love was just puppy love. My husband would not settle down. He would go out nights and stay out until morning. I would not dare to say anything to him for he would strike me. Now we have been parted for a year. I saw him a few weeks ago and he came to me and said, "I would like to come back to me. He said that he would never go out with other women and would buy me some new furniture and start over again. I said that I would never go back to him. I am afraid to go back for now I feel like I never can give him the love that I had for him once. I have thought of a divorce but my husband does not want to get

THREE KEYS TO WOMAN'S HAPPINESS

"THREE KEYS open the door which leads to women's happiness—love, domestic interest and personal achievement," says Blanche Upright, the San Francisco novelist.

"Many modern women are trying to enter with just one key—personal achievement, without taking into consideration the importance of the first two. So we hear much about their restlessness and discontent," she continued.

"I am convinced that women will never find happiness in careers or professions if they select them as a substitute for home, children and the normal interests of women. Women are essentially homemakers."

"These brave women who go out to work that they may maintain or help maintain a home for those dependent upon them are greatly to be admired, but those who go into business just to avoid the responsibilities of being a wife and mother are storing up unhappiness later."

FOLLOW WRONG TRAIL.—In my study of women and types I find that so many women try to find their happiness everywhere except where it is most easily found—in home life.

"They make the loss of a maid or the desire for things which they cannot have material for tragedy. They are so blinded by trivialities they cannot see the suffering beyond their own immediate vision, and the opportunity to help others."

Mrs. Upright has given much thought to women's problems. Her first novel, which is being dramatized and pictured this year, "The Valley of Content," was based upon the search for happiness. The novel which she is now finishing has to do with women's independence.

Her literary career began at the age of 3, when she dictated fairy tales to her nurse. At 10 she produced a six-act play, and when she was nicely started in her teens, she became associated with a San Francisco paper.

LONDON ADVISED HER.—She took her first piece of fiction to Jack London for criticism and he told her to go ahead and be famous.

The real ambition of her life is not literary success, but a large estate on the Hudson, to which she may take the little girls she finds in the slums and give them a chance at a real home and some real mothering.

BLANCHE UPRIGHT

"Of course, for my fiction, I pick my types all over," she said, "but I find much more that touches my heart among the poor than in the ordinarily comfortable circles."

"I have made it my business to look for the good in people and I have never yet been disappointed."

"I have never known a woman who did not have a beautiful side to her character, no matter what her occupation or circumstances might be, nor have I ever found a child who did not respond to kindness and understanding."

The her home on the Hudson is still a dream, she has already worked up a great acquaintance with the children of New York's East Side tenements and they are frequently entertained at her suite at the Hotel Astor and sent home happy with new clothes and toys.

Mrs. Upright, herself is happily married and has a grown son.

The Day of First Parting

By ZOE BECKLEY

"All right, Jack, old boy!" Mark Stanley clapped Jack on the shoulder. "Go ahead and clean up the London business. We'll take care of your wife."

When Jack and Edna parted next day at the station where Jack took the boat train they kissed and smiled. But it was the pretended unconcern of the Spartan under whose tunic the stolen fox was tearing at the flesh.

"Come back the minute you're through," a determined gaily banishing the tears she longed to shed. "Enjoy yourself till I do!" Jack's voice was vibrant.

Nella Stanley, who had come with Mark to see Jack off, pushed up in a pretty clamor:

"Naughty boy, aren't you going to kiss me au revoir?"

Jack, horribly embarrassed, leaned down from the step and did so exuberantly. Edna wondered at his bad taste and took refuge in some commonplace persiflage, while Mark, in mock jealousy, shook a fist at Jack.

"I'll get even with you, now I've got your lady in me power-r-r!" At last the long train moved off, with Jack waving from the window and Edna fluttering her handkerchief as she stood between the Stanleys.

For a whole day she had not the heart to leave her room but lay in it nervously, miserably, cut off from all she loved. Then, with a faint, unceremoniousness, Mark and Edna stormed into her refuge and literally carried her off to get any. Miss Smart please give me your advice.

WORRIED WIFE.—THERE is so much real truth in the old saying, "Absence makes the heart grow fonder." Your husband has doubtless come to a realization of this and now he understands how much you mean to him. Four years makes a marked difference and now that he is older your husband realizes that he has been greatly at fault.

You state that you were both too young when you were married and that neither one of you knew or understood real love.

Remember that your husband, when he married you, must have been anxious and willing to make the marriage a success. However, his youth interfered and not fully understanding the responsibilities of married life, he broke his vows.

I do not hesitate to tell you, however, that if you refuse to give your husband another chance you will live to regret the fact. Make yourself and your home so cheerful and attractive that he will never want to leave you. Give him one more chance and never fail to be a real companion and pal to him.

"AREN'T YOU GOING TO KISS ME AU REVOIR?"

the bright boulevards, the Champs Elysees, sun-dappled and sweet with trees and grass and wide spaces where children played. Her spirits rose.

Jack's leave now stung instead of ached. Mark Stanley ceased and courted, flattered and pled her with Paris. Like wine, they drove through the shady Bois, had tea at the fashionable "Cascales" and "Chateau de Madrid" with its tables on the lawn under great striped umbrellas—a fairland of colored lights at night, went "touristing" to the top of the Eiffel Tower, whence all Paris lay spread like a map below them, from the glistening white Montmartre to the Pantheon's dome across the city.

Something seemed to call out to her: "Don't take an absence seriously. Be happy! See life, little newlywed from a small town that you are!" She answered feverishly. She went sightseeing by day—often alone with Mark when Nella insisted she had a headache—and she danced merrily at night at Ciro's and even the Bal Tabarin. Edna was skillful in his attentions. Mark was sometimes uneasy at his warmth, but never suspicious of it. So that when the Stanleys suggested a few days of rest at Fontainebleau she was glad to go along.

Not the faintest idea had she that her resentment of Jack, her determination to "live," was working in the hands of Cousins—in daily telephone communication with the Stanleys.

The preponderance of evidence proved that Cobb deserved a hit and the disputed bludge was allowed. The official scorer said that he first ruled it a hit, and after thinking it over, believed Scott should have handled the play and scored it an error.

SIKI'S LIFE STORY

By HARRY L. FARRELL

Chapter Three—Siki's War-time Fighting

When the war broke out, I felt it up to me to do my duty as a French citizen. We of St. Louis, yes, we are citizens. We have the vote. We also have the duties.

I joined the French Colonial at Toulon. It was a regiment mainly made up of white men. There were only a few colored men. I perhaps was the only Senegalese.

My family did its duty. My four brothers also served and three were killed. I was in all the big early campaigns.

I got my only serious wound in the battle around the Somme in the summer of 1916. Bomb fragments went through both legs in the middle of the calf.

From the hospital, I went to Toulon for training and wound up as a corporal in the 72nd regiment of heavy artillery.

USED CROUCH IN WAR

I was the champion hand grenade thrower of my corps, while with the Colonels. I could throw them 75 meters. It was exciting.

I stood and used what the sporting writers now call my jungle crouch, went that way some distance toward the German line, then let them have the grenades. For some of that I got the Croix-de-Guerre and Military Medal.

But French service wasn't all fighting and crouching. There was an English corps near ours in the Somme district. Those English always have spots when they do not work at war.

One day I got leave, went over to the English and asked to box one of their men. They got up a contest and we had pretty go. Then they asked me to stay to lunch. We French had simple food and not much of that. But the English—ah, such meat and butter and good things!

BOXES ENGLISH

Those Tommies said it was as funny to see me eat as fight. They stuffed my pockets with things to eat, so when I returned to my own lines, my comrades said I had grown fat, fighting the English.

But no, I say. "Monsieur, now, comrades—it is the English, they have given good things to eat. See, we will have a picnic. Then I take those foods from my pockets and

PUNTS ELEVEN TIMES, NOT TIGERS AND PIRATES PLANNING TO GO AFTER PENNANT

By HARRY L. FARRELL

NEW YORK — Harry Heilmann, American League batting champion of 1921, home run hitter, first class and one of the best outfielders in the league, fears that his baseball career has ended, according to word received from California.

Late in the past season, Heilmann fell in a game between the Detroit Tigers and the Washington Senators and broke his collar bone. He went back to Detroit where he had to have the bone broken and re-set. At this time it was found that his shoulder also was broken.

In a letter to his brother, Dick Heilmann, in San Francisco, the Tiger star declared his shoulder was in such bad shape that he not only was unable to swing a bat next year, but that he feared he would never be able to play again.

As they finished the season, the Tigers looked like a real good prospect for the 1922 pennant race and the loss of Heilmann, one of the main works of the team, would be a severe blow to Ty Cobb's chances of grabbing the pennant.

Cobb is rebuilding the team and the results he achieved in the last race was one of the big surprises of the season.

If the deal should go thru with the Boston Red Sox by which the Tigers would get Derrill Pratt and "Rip" Collins, they ought to be one of the favorites for the championship next year.

After they finally got going past the half-post in the race, the Pittsburgh Pirates looked like the best team in the National League.

Pittsburgh fans felt if Bill McKeechie had been placed in charge of the team at the start of the season, the Pirates would have won the pennant.

McKeechie is going right out after the championship next spring and he plans to make several changes in the team. He wants a couple of pitchers, and a new infielder and another right-handed outfielder.

Horace Ford, the Boston Brave star, may be in a Pittsburgh uniform if a deal can be made this winter. It is understood.

McKeechie is said to be willing to part with Barrard, Hamilton, Yellow Horse, Brown, Royster, Collins and Lovelace in trades.

Cooper and Morrison are said to be the only pitchers that are sure of their jobs for next year.

Considering the fact that the Pirates did not begin to work properly until Walter Schmidt deserted the holdout ranks, it is rather unusual to hear talk from Pittsburgh that Barney Dreyfuss wants to get rid of him. Schmidt is one of the finest catchers in the league, but he and his boss cannot agree on what salary he is worth.

Just before the close of the season, Schmidt wrote to a friend in California that he was going to manage the team in 1923 and it gave rise to reports that he wasn't friendly with McKeechie. Previous happenings do not support the story, however, as one of McKeechie's first acts as manager of the team was to insist upon meeting Schmidt's terms and get him back in the game.

Both teams are working with Thanksgiving Day game in view and are developing new players, which will be used for the first time on the day.

Right now there is no choice in twining games, but star players of the league, South and Contr, should battle harder and fiercer Thanksgiving Day than at any time during the season, and from present appearances the breaks will divide the winner.

At first the official scorer ruled it a hit, but later changed his mind and credited Scott with an error.

An investigation shows that a dozen experts were in the New York press box that day and eleven of them gave Cobb a hit on the fly, among them being Fred Lieb, president of the Baseball Writers' Association.

The preponderance of evidence proved that Cobb deserved a hit and the disputed bludge was allowed. The official scorer said that he first ruled it a hit, and after thinking it over, believed Scott should have handled the play and scored it an error.

It is a rule of all news bureaus that the official score sheet shall be followed in sending out the results. In this game Cobb hit a ball over second that Scott got in front of but was unable to get his man at first. At first the official scorer ruled it a hit, but later changed his mind and credited Scott with an error.

Robertson Makes Most Points

By HARRY L. FARRELL

NEW YORK — Quarterback Jimmy Robertson, of Carnegie Tech., continues to lead individual grading scores in the east, with 73 points, composed of 12 touchdowns and one point from a try after touchdown.

Robertson, of Carnegie Tech., is close behind with 71, consisting of ten touchdowns, and eleven points after touchdowns while Wilson and Paine of Penn State are next with 61 and 55 respectively.

Hanson of Cornell leads the lead in scoring points, from try after touchdown with 23. McBride of Syracuse is the leading scorer from the field, having registered three field goals.

Tut Jackson will meet Jack Martin, negro heavyweight from Toledo, at Washington, C. H., Wednesday in Tut's first battle since his flounder in New York with Harry Wills.

Missed goal allowed St. Edward's eleven to win 10-6 over Pasorito Knits Road team at Youngstown.

West aggregation showed some real passing and made their touchdowns by the overhead route, altho the Apex line prevented gains from straight football.

The two teams meet again soon and practice has been called for every night this week. All Apex players are asked to report for practice every night.

"BLACK BEBE" ASPIRES TO WEAR VAMPIRE GOWN

(By ESTHER WAGNER)

Black hair. Black eyebrows and lashes. Black dress. Black ornaments. Black pumps. The only black about Bebe Daniels is not black about her very red lips and a colorless glass button on the pump. This is the impression of the actress gained by Mr. James K. Mooney, New York correspondent of this column.

The blackest things about her, physicists will tell you, are no varying degrees of black, but physicists probe her looked into the eyes of the black hair.

Bebe Daniels is called "the black beauty" in Hollywood. Her popularity is as widespread as the reason for her popularity is the reason for her popularity.

Many screen actors are better than Bebe. It is not I have talked to her with reader answers to her questions.

The Storm Pictorially and Historically Perfect

SOMETHING about this picture, "The Storm," that "gets" you. It is either the remarkable acting of House Peters, the awesome beauty of the western sunsets, or the beauty of the great mountains in the snow, whatever it is, you come away from the theatre as if you've just witnessed a masterpiece of the cinematic art.

"The Storm," you remember has been a stage favorite, but more can be done in a screen presentation. The limitations of the stage make it impossible to portray all the elements and wonders of a storm which make its screen presentation so attractive.

The story is too long to tell here, besides, it would only detract from your ultimate enjoyment of the film. However, it concerns two of the most opposing types who are forced to live together for four weeks in a remote cabin in the heart of a storm.

The situation is complicated by the appearance of a girl who is also bound with them during the long, secluded winter.

House Peters and Matt Moore are the gentlemen of complex natures and their acting is above reproach. Miss Virginia Valli as the girl and Josef Swickard in an equally important role, are to be commended for their remarkable acting ability.

So true to life, so natural is the beautiful scenery, that you can fairly sense the deep quiet of the deep timbered valleys, and the snowstorm scenes are so realistic that you snuggle down deep into your last winter's coat and wonder if it's getting colder outside. Nothing staged about that snow storm I assure you!

Simplicity is the keynote of the entire offering and for that reason, it ranks as one of the most thorough and understandable film story of the season. And no matter how thrill-proof you may THINK you are, you're going to weaken at certain points of the story.

"The Storm" is the special attraction today and all this week at the Lyric theatre. It is hereby heartily recommended for your perusal.

rooted desire to go straight. His wife, however, loving another, plots against him and again he is landed in the pen, from which he later escapes. The escape, one of the old time, thriller type, doesn't turn out just right. Bud gets smashed up and comes to the attention of a plastic surgeon, who loves all service boys. He emerges a new man, (Milton Sills as you know him).

That's as much of the story as you're going to hear from this department. Be assured, however, that Mr. Sills does splendid acting. Miss Vidor is her usual charming self, and Marcia Manon, as the villainess, is so good she fairly gives you goose-flesh. Charles Gray and Frank Campbell are equally as wonderful. And Miss Gertrude Astor, too! Her part, while small, is excellent.

Mr. Ince has invested the production with the best of direction and sets and, coupled with his all-star cast, presents in "Skin Deep" a deeply convincing and most interesting program picture.

It's at the Sigma again today and until Friday.

himself dishonest and wily impostor old lady to believe that he is worthy and runs away, leaving her to the mercy of the older son. Does the logic of that situation seem just natural to you?

Mary Carr has achieved everlasting fame as creator of mother roles, and her work in "Silver Wings" has strengthened that fame a hundredfold. The supporting cast is all that it should be, and other details quite perfect.

The operatic concert by Madame Marie Marcucci, and Miss Frances X. Moore, given in conjunction with the presentation, is one of the finest and most enjoyable musical treat to be given here this season. The voices of each of these great artists are superb, and lovers of music and those to whom the perfect interpretation of the great operas is a joy and an inspiration will at once discover the untold beauty and marvelous tonal qualities embodied in their voices.

Costumes worn in the presentation are gorgeous affairs made entirely of pearls, which greatly enhance the performance.

Behold Tom Meighan in New Offering

EVERY once in a while one hears the expression, "Well, old man, if you had to do it all over again, would you get married?"

The answers, of course, vary. But in Tom Meighan's new picture, "The Man Who Saw Tomorrow," he knows all about it before he takes the fatal step. In other words, he is allowed to look into the future and see just what his life would be like if he marries an aristocratic English girl or the daughter of a South Sea Captain.

The aristocratic one would live only for her social ambitions, while the shipper's daughter would live only for the happiness of her husband. Naturally, the latter wins.

The story itself is interesting, tho utterly impossible of course, and in its unusual theme, is a tiny bit confusing, causing one's mental processes to be right on the job.

Mr. Meighan is one of the screen's most capable actors, and his role in "The Man Who Saw Tomorrow" gives him opportunity to do his best. Leatrice Joy, prominent in the supporting cast, goes thru her role in the most quiet, dignified manner.

Do you think you'd enjoy knowing in advance just what each day would bring, just how each crisis would result, were you to marry today? Probably not, but it's inter-of travel, this is her first trip east. It isn't conversational entertainment; she has little to say and says that with a colorless voice.

"In an hour's conversation Bebe grew enthusiastic about just one thing—color.

"I'm just crazy to wear a red dress," she told me. "I have several of them at home. I put them on about the house and fully intend to wear them when I go out, but I never have quite the nerve. So I compromise on black."

"You pronounce Miss Daniels' first name 'B-B'." She started in pictures at nine, went on the stage for several years and back to the screen at 12. She is ambitious to play in a "musical comedy" and then to do a tragic role on the stage and return to the screen "for good." The role she likes best is the one in "The World's Applause," the picture Wm. DeMille recently completed under the title of "Notoriety." Her next picture will be an adaptation of Edith Wharton's "Glimpses of the Moon."

Hal Kiter and Company In a New Offering

PONTANEOUS wit, the quality that makes Hal Kiter's various comedy roles so successful, is quite evident in his newest offering, at the New Orpheum, "A Hot Old Time," which opens at that theatre on Sunday.

He contrives to make his audiences laugh incessantly, and when a comedian succeeds in doing that, he accomplishes something.

By this time you know as well as I do the various members of the Kiter Allen Co. You know that Pearl Stevens and Gilbert Mack are sure to please in their various vocal selections; you expect dancing numbers by the Hartes; you look for Betty Battle in the trio numbers, and at the finale, you confidently expect the three diminutive chorus girls, Betty Jean, Dolly and Ruth, to make their appearance. In "A Hot Old Time" you are not disappointed in a single expectation.

Also, a vaudeville sketch by two new members of the company is given, which was quite agreeable to the audiences Sunday.

The present bill will continue in effect until Thursday, when an entirely new program will take its place, containing new features and novelties.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL
Thousands Have Discovered
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets
are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes gives you a headache, but Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets never do. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a clogged liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" a clogged brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 50c.

SAFEST WAY TO GET RID OF A COLD
TAKE FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE
If you have a cold and start taking "immediate relief" medicines, you are gambling with health and even life itself. Such medicines depend upon narcotics which paralyze the nerves and allow the cold to become deeply seated in your system.

The logical way to treat a cold is by using Father John's Medicine, which gives strength to throw off the impurities, soothes and heals the lining of the breathing passages, and in the natural way helps your system to entirely get rid of the cold.

The basis of Father John's Medicine has always been cod liver oil and by our scientific process it is so compounded with other ingredients that it is readily taken up even by a weakened digestive system. It is guaranteed free from narcotic drugs or stimulants.

In "A Hot Old Time" you are not disappointed in a single expectation.

Also, a vaudeville sketch by two new members of the company is given, which was quite agreeable to the audiences Sunday.

The present bill will continue in effect until Thursday, when an entirely new program will take its place, containing new features and novelties.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL
Thousands Have Discovered
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets
are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes gives you a headache, but Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets never do. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a clogged liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" a clogged brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 50c.

TOWN DIVIDED ON DEATH MYSTERY

Feeling Runs High Over Tragedy at Havre, Mont.

FURTHER VIOLENCE FEARED

Alleged Murder, Suicide Case Far From Closed

HAVRE, Mont.—(Special).—The tragic shooting that took the lives of Rev. L. J. Christler, "bishop of all outdoors," and Mrs. Margaret Carleton is far from a closed case, despite the coroner's verdict of murder and suicide. It may yet develop into a deadly parallel of the Hall-Mills murder mystery.

Everyone literally everyone—in the little town of Havre is talking of the possibility. The town is divided on the case—bitterly, angrily divided. So intense is the feeling in fact, that it is not impossible that the case may lead to further violence, no matter what is the outcome of the mystery itself.

The controversy has raged ever since the night of Oct. 27, when the bodies of the Rev. Christler and the pretty wife of a former superior judge were found by Mrs. Christler in the rectory of St. Mark's Episcopal Church, each killed by a pistol shot through the heart.

Staunch defenders of the Rev. Christler maintain the coroner's jury was right; that Mrs. Carleton, spurred by the clergyman, shot him down and then killed herself.

DOUBLE MURDER

There are others—many others—who point to the post-mortem examination held over the bodies after the coroner's inquest. This examination showed the bullet which ended Mrs. Carleton's life entered her body on the left side, above her heart, and lodged in the right side and below her heart. Experts say it would be possible, but highly improbable for such a wound to be self-inflicted—that in virtually all suicides where the heart is penetrated, the bullet ranges upward to the left.

These people contend that it was a double murder—that someone found the two killed them both and after putting the death pistol in the woman's lifeless hand, to simulate a murder and suicide.

There are the two theories. Everybody in town holds one or the other. As a result, acrimonious argument is heard on every corner about this, the most sensational murder case in the annals of Montana.

In the 16 years he had served in Havre as pastor and as archdeacon of Milk River Valley the Rev. Christler had made hundreds of friends. He was responsible for much good work, and not only built up his mission field to amazing extent but was also a vital figure in this section's political circles, serving in the legislature.

These friends of the "bishop of all outdoors" are ready to defend his memory—even to the point of fighting for it.

But there are others just as strong in defense of Mrs. Carleton. Wife of a former district judge, young and charming, she was one of the leading figures in Havre's social life. Men and women who have been entertained in her home are unwilling to believe that she could have taken human life.

No hint of suspicion has been published.

holy raised against Mrs. Christler, who testified that she heard the shot and came into the room to find her husband and Mrs. Carleton dead.

Those who declare that a third person committed the crime aver that Mrs. Christler would hide any evidence she might have had of this in order to avoid further scandal.

County Attorney Max Kuhr, Police Chief James Moran and Coroner James Holland, however, have dropped investigation. Kuhr has announced that so far as he is concerned, the case is closed, unless something untoward develops.

Bishop Frederick Faber, head of Montana's Episcopal diocese, has issued a statement, holding the Rev. Christler blameless.

SPECIAL INVESTIGATORS
Joseph Pyle, prominent mining engineer, and his wife, parents of Mrs. Carleton, are so indignant over this they want the case closed immediately at any cost—because Havre prides itself on being one of the most modern little cities in America.

den dropping of the case.

Mrs. Pyle openly declares her belief that it was a double murder.

"The talk of Margaret leading Christler astray, then shooting him because he would not leave his wife for her is whitewash," she says. "They try to pre-empt him because he was a minister. Margaret was 19 years younger than Christler. If anybody 'led,' it would have been him."

It is intimated too that the mystery has a political angle. Many believe the investigation will be pushed more vigorously after election day than prior to it.

Another thing tending to impede thorough investigation is the fact that Havre has been aroused by certain newspaper reports about the town printed since the tragedy. Some of these characterize it as a "wild open frontier town," full of gambling and loose morals.

Some citizens are so indignant over this they want the case closed immediately at any cost—because Havre prides itself on being one of the most modern little cities in America.

SAFEST WAY TO GET RID OF A COLD TAKE FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE

If you have a cold and start taking "immediate relief" medicines, you are gambling with health and even life itself. Such medicines depend upon narcotics which paralyze the nerves and allow the cold to become deeply seated in your system.

The logical way to treat a cold is by using Father John's Medicine, which gives strength to throw off the impurities, soothes and heals the lining of the breathing passages, and in the natural way helps your system to entirely get rid of the cold.

The basis of Father John's Medicine has always been cod liver oil and by our scientific process it is so compounded with other ingredients that it is readily taken up even by a weakened digestive system. It is guaranteed free from narcotic drugs or stimulants.

Behold Tom Meighan in New Offering

EVERY once in a while one hears the expression, "Well, old man, if you had to do it all over again, would you get married?"

The answers, of course, vary. But in Tom Meighan's new picture, "The Man Who Saw Tomorrow," he knows all about it before he takes the fatal step. In other words, he is allowed to look into the future and see just what his life would be like if he marries an aristocratic English girl or the daughter of a South Sea Captain.

The aristocratic one would live only for her social ambitions, while the shipper's daughter would live only for the happiness of her husband. Naturally, the latter wins.

The story itself is interesting, tho utterly impossible of course, and in its unusual theme, is a tiny bit confusing, causing one's mental processes to be right on the job.

Mr. Meighan is one of the screen's most capable actors, and his role in "The Man Who Saw Tomorrow" gives him opportunity to do his best. Leatrice Joy, prominent in the supporting cast, goes thru her role in the most quiet, dignified manner.

Do you think you'd enjoy knowing in advance just what each day would bring, just how each crisis would result, were you to marry today? Probably not, but it's inter-

SHORT SHAVINGS

Patrolman Clapper, Police Station, was on his beat in the market house when a woman and her little boy passed him. The boy stopped to blow his horn at the policeman. He smiled, the people about him looked, and a dog that was with the little boy jumped up on him, playing. Clapper said: "Is that your dog, lady?" She said: "Why, no! That's my little boy!"

Jeane Knowles, carpenter, went squirrel hunting with a friend. His friend sat down under a tree to rest himself. He leaped up with a shout of "It bit me! Take it off!" It developed later when the excitement calmed, that he imagined that he sat on the opening of a chipmunk burrow, and that the chipmunk resented it. "He was mistaken," says Knowles. "What he sat on was a chestnut bun."

John Morgan tells of a friend who is never at a loss for an extra button. He has one for emergencies sewed to the inside of his coat near the bottom. He wondered why others stared and laughed when he walked down the street.

A coat hanger was suspended from the emergency button, and trailing behind him as he hurried forth.

Harry O'Connor, attorney, likes cream puffs. He bought a dozen unusually fine ones, and put them on the rear seat of his car to take them home for dinner. On his way home he saw a man waiting for a car, and cordially he said, "Have a ride!" The man climbed into the rear seat. "I wish I hadn't been so accommodating," says O'Connor. "He sat on my cream puffs!"

A Prince Among Thinkers
A Saint Among Men

Jonathan Edwards' education made him a prince among thinkers, and a saint among men. His grandson, Aaron Burr, received better scholastic training, but because he neglected the accompanying moral culture, his education merely increased his capacity for evil and made him a curse to the nation.

For eighty years, Ohio Wesleyan has taught straight thinking and straight living to 30,000 young men and women. These Christian characters have made the name of America blessed through the message of human sympathy they bore and the lives of service they lived.

An investment in Ohio Wesleyan University is an investment for scholarship, for truth, for broad culture, for human progress, for world betterment, for the Kingdom of God in America and to the ends of the earth.
